

The Omaha Bee

Published every morning, except Sunday and on Monday morning daily.TERMS BY MAIL—One Year, $10.00; Three Months, $3.00; Six Months, $5.00; One Month, $1.00.THE WEEKLY BEE, published every Wednesday.TERMS POST PAID—
One Year, $10.00; Three Months, $3.00;
Six Months, $5.00; One Month, $1.00.AMERICAN NEWS COMPANY, Sole Agents for Newsdealers in the United States.CORRESPONDENCE—All communications relating to News and Editorial matters should be addressed to the Editor of The Bee.BUSINESS LETTERS—All business letters and remittances should be addressed to THE BEE PUBLISHING CO., 112 N. 10th St., Omaha, Neb.The BEE PUBLISHING CO., Props E. ROSEWATER, Editor.Fifty second hand Nebraska homes are now for sale.This prospect for paving Tenth street this year is dimmer than a last year's comet.When the political attorneys of the railroads pool their issues, honest delegates of the people are always pushed to the wall.How long will Douglas county republicans submit to being used as a cat's paw to drag the railroad chestnuts out of the convention fire.There were more sore heads made by the late republican convention than can be healed in ten years. A good many of them are in the railroad camp.JOHN KELLEY'S 75,000 Tammany votes will be cast for the democratic nominee in New York this fall. They will make the contest decidedly doubtful.GENERAL VAN WYCK'S enemies will have to take a fresh hold. The general will be on hand in Fremont, and the Valentine howlers are not likely to forget it.CHURCH HOWE says he has been well paid by the railroads for his work in their behalf. The people are beginning to pay him off for his efforts against their interests.GEN. SHERMAN has ordered Gen.
Howard to revoke his order forbidding Sunday dress parades in the department of the Platte. Gen. Sherman should at once be taken in hand by the salvation army.BEN BETLER is howling for civil service reform. Ben's idea of a reform in the civil service is closely connected with a change in the Massachusetts state house.MEAT, the last staple to feel the drop in the provision market, has fallen so that a breakfast is now a luxury that ordinary families can afford at least twice a week.THE Pennsylvania railroad company has begun a crusade against base ball, and forbidden the attendance of employees at base ball matches. Five hundred U. P. and B. & M. clerks rejoice that their lines have not fallen in Pennsylvania places.Chicago is making preparations on a large scale to ship dressed meat to the eastern markets. Shipments of meat have up to the present time been made on the hoof, seventeen head making a car load. Chicago dealers have discovered that they can make more money by shipping dead carcasses instead of live animals, the beef being packed in refrigerated cars which carry thirty-five cattle out.This is our candid and unbiased opinion of the respective candidates of the republican ticket.OTHER LANDS THAN OURS.
England has up to the present time been the chief actor in the military settlement of the Egyptian question.Europe will from this time on take a hand in the final adjustment of the relations which the conquered territory is to hold to the continental powers. Actual warfare has closed; diplomatic controversy seems just about to begin. When the British government demanded months ago the banishment of Arabi, and sent its troops to Alexandria to punish the instigators of the massacre of July, repeated promises were made by Mr.
Gladstone's government that when the authority of the khedive had been restored England would quietly leave Egypt to work out her own destiny.It is a serious question now whether those promises will be considered binding. An overpowering public opinion at home demands that the advantages obtained by war shall be retained in time of peace. The natural highway to India, Egypt is also of great importance in maintaining that supremacy of the Mediterranean which the possession of Gibraltar, Malta and Cyprus have given to Great Britain.The land of the Pharaohs is now in English hands. Shall they relinquish it? This is the question which is puzzling Mr. Gladstone and over whose settlement Europe is interested.Russia, Turkey, Spain, Italy and France each have interests which will be greatly affected by English occupation, and a move in that directionThe ticket nominated by the republican state convention does not, as a whole, commend itself to republicans who are not owned soul and body by corporate monopolies.The candidate for governor, James W. Dawes, is a man of very small calibre for a position of such grave responsibility.While his record as a steadfast and staunch republican cannot justly be assailed, his record as a legislator is a mere blank. His public career has been that of a trading politician who never hesitates to sacrifice principles or friends for personal preferment.On the most vital issues that concern the people Mr. Dawes has no positive convictions, and there is little hope that he will differ in his conduct from his immediate predecessors. Mr.
Dawes will be the next governor for all that, and in many respects he will make a better governor than some of those who were competing for the position.The nominee for Lieutenant Governor, Mr. A. W. Agee is as yet unknown to fame in this state, but he comes recommended by the republicans of Hamilton county, where he resides, as a promising young man.The impression he created by his speech accepting the nomination is very favorable.Edward P. Roggen, the republican candidate for secretary of state, is the most competent man that could have been chosen for the place. With an experience of nearly twelve years as deputy secretary of state, he has acquired a thorough insight into the duties of the office, and we have no doubt he will fill the position faithfully and creditably.Loran Clark, candidate for treasurer, secured his nomination by fraud and trickery. Mr. W. B. White, of Bart, the rightful nominee of the convention, was counted out by a racially biased and dishonest secretary after he had fairly been nominated.A more dangerous man could not possibly be treated with the state funds than Loran Clark. His record as a legislator and public man is that of a corrupt jobber and unprincipled knave. He has been for years the pliant tool of the monopolies, and would, as a state officer, do their bidding at the public expense on every occasion. No honest republican can give such a man his support.Mr. Wallich has been renominated for auditor. He is a weak, well-meaning man, but he is in the hands of the railway managers, and while we cannot accuse him of downright dishonesty in office, he has been guilty of the most criminal negligence of duty in assessing the property of the railroads.Mr. Isaac Powers, Jr., was nominated for attorney general in the same fraudulent manner as Loran Clark.
The rightful nominee of the party, Mr. Frank Ransom, of Otoe, was counted out by the railroad henchmen for his benefit.

THE REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET

The ticket nominated by the republican state convention does not, as a
whole, commend itself to republicans
who are not owned soul and body by
corporate monopolies.The candidate for governor, James
W. Dawes, is a man of very small calibre for a position of such grave responsibility.While his record as a steadfast and
staunch republican cannot justly be
assailed, his record as a legislator is a
mere blank. His public career has
been that of a trading politician who
never hesitates to sacrifice principles
or friends for personal preferment.On the most vital issues that concern
the people Mr. Dawes has no positive
convictions, and there is little hope
that he will differ in his conduct from
his immediate predecessors. Mr.
Dawes will be the next governor for
all that, and in many respects he will
make a better governor than some of
those who were competing for the position.The nominee for Lieutenant Governor, Mr. A. W. Agee is as yet un-
known to fame in this state, but he
comes recommended by the republicans of Hamilton county, where he
resides, as a promising young man.The impression he created by his
speech accepting the nomination is
very favorable.Edward P. Roggen, the republican candidate for secretary of state, is the
most competent man that could have
been chosen for the place. With an
experience of nearly twelve years as
deputy secretary of state, he has ac-
quired a thorough insight into the
duties of the office, and we have no
doubt he will fill the position faith-
fully and creditably.Loran Clark, candidate for treasurer, secured his nomination by fraud
and trickery. Mr. W. B. White, of Bart, the rightful nominee of the convention, was counted out by a racially
biased and dishonest secretary after
he had fairly been nominated.A more dangerous man could not
possibly be treated with the state
funds than Loran Clark. His record
as a legislator and public man is that
of a corrupt jobber and unprincipled
knave. He has been for years the
pliant tool of the monopolies, and
would, as a state officer, do their bid-
ding at the public expense on every
occasion. No honest republican can
give such a man his support.Mr. Wallich has been renominated for auditor. He is a weak, well-
meaning man, but he is in the hands
of the railway managers, and while
we cannot accuse him of downright
dishonesty in office, he has been
guilty of the most criminal negli-
gence of duty in assessing the property
of the railroads.Mr. Isaac Powers, Jr., was nominated for attorney general in the same
fraudulent manner as Loran Clark.
The rightful nominee of the party,
Mr. Frank Ransom, of Otoe, was
counted out by the railroad henchmen
for his benefit.This is our candid and unbiased
opinion of the respective candidates
of the republican ticket.OTHER LANDS THAN OURS.
England has up to the present time
been the chief actor in the military
settlement of the Egyptian question.Europe will from this time on take
a hand in the final adjustment of the
relations which the conquered territory
is to hold to the continental
powers. Actual warfare has closed;
diplomatic controversy seems just
about to begin. When the British
government demanded months ago the
banishment of Arabi, and sent its
troops to Alexandria to punish the
instigators of the massacre of July,
repeated promises were made by Mr.
Gladstone's government that when
the authority of the khedive had been
restored England would quietly leave
Egypt to work out her own destiny.It is a serious question now whether
those promises will be considered
binding. An overpowering public
opinion at home demands that the advantages obtained by war shall be retained in time of peace. The natural
highway to India, Egypt is also of
great importance in maintaining that
supremacy of the Mediterranean which
the possession of Gibraltar, Malta and
Cyprus have given to Great Britain.The land of the Pharaohs is now in English hands. Shall they relinquish
it? This is the question which is
puzzling Mr. Gladstone and over
whose settlement Europe is interested.Russia, Turkey, Spain, Italy and France each have interests which will
be greatly affected by English occupation, and a move in that directionThe ticket nominated by the republican state convention does not, as a
whole, commend itself to republicans
who are not owned soul and body by
corporate monopolies.The candidate for governor, James
W. Dawes, is a man of very small calibre for a position of such grave responsibility.While his record as a steadfast and
staunch republican cannot justly be
assailed, his record as a legislator is a
mere blank. His public career has
been that of a trading politician who
never hesitates to sacrifice principles
or friends for personal preferment.On the most vital issues that concern
the people Mr. Dawes has no positive
convictions, and there is little hope
that he will differ in his conduct from
his immediate predecessors. Mr.
Dawes will be the next governor for
all that, and in many respects he will
make a better governor than some of
those who were competing for the position.The nominee for Lieutenant Governor, Mr. A. W. Agee is as yet un-
known to fame in this state, but he
comes recommended by the republicans of Hamilton county, where he
resides, as a promising young man.The impression he created by his
speech accepting the nomination is
very favorable.Edward P. Roggen, the republican candidate for secretary of state, is the
most competent man that could have
been chosen for the place. With an
experience of nearly twelve years as
deputy secretary of state, he has ac-
quired a thorough insight into the
duties of the office, and we have no
doubt he will fill the position faith-
fully and creditably.Loran Clark, candidate for treasurer, secured his nomination by fraud
and trickery. Mr. W. B. White, of Bart, the rightful nominee of the convention, was counted out by a racially
biased and dishonest secretary after
he had fairly been nominated.A more dangerous man could not
possibly be treated with the state
funds than Loran Clark. His record
as a legislator and public man is that
of a corrupt jobber and unprincipled
knave. He has been for years the
pliant tool of the monopolies, and
would, as a state officer, do their bid-
ding at the public expense on every
occasion. No honest republican can
give such a man his support.Mr. Wallich has been renominated for auditor. He is a weak, well-
meaning man, but he is in the hands
of the railway managers, and while
we cannot accuse him of downright
dishonesty in office, he has been
guilty of the most criminal negli-
gence of duty in assessing the property
of the railroads.Mr. Isaac Powers, Jr., was nominated for attorney general in the same
fraudulent manner as Loran Clark.
The rightful nominee of the party,
Mr. Frank Ransom, of Otoe, was
counted out by the railroad henchmen
for his benefit.This is our candid and unbiased
opinion of the respective candidates
of the republican ticket.OTHER LANDS THAN OURS.
England has up to the present time
been the chief actor in the military
settlement of the Egyptian question.Europe will from this time on take
a hand in the final adjustment of the
relations which the conquered territory
is to hold to the continental
powers. Actual warfare has closed;
diplomatic controversy seems just
about to begin. When the British
government demanded months ago the
banishment of Arabi, and sent its
troops to Alexandria to punish the
instigators of the massacre of July,
repeated promises were made by Mr.
Gladstone's government that when
the authority of the khedive had been
restored England would quietly leave
Egypt to work out her own destiny.It is a serious question now whether
those promises will be considered
binding. An overpowering public
opinion at home demands that the advantages obtained by war shall be retained in time of peace. The natural
highway to India, Egypt is also of
great importance in maintaining that
supremacy of the Mediterranean which
the possession of Gibraltar, Malta and
Cyprus have given to Great Britain.The land of the Pharaohs is now in English hands. Shall they relinquish
it? This is the question which is
puzzling Mr. Gladstone and over
whose settlement Europe is interested.Russia, Turkey, Spain, Italy and France each have interests which will
be greatly affected by English occupation, and a move in that direction

PRESTIGE AND FLUNDER.

The ticket nominated by the republican state convention does not, as a
whole, commend itself to republicans
who are not owned soul and body by
corporate monopolies.The candidate for governor, James
W. Dawes, is a man of very small calibre for a position of such grave responsibility.While his record as a steadfast and
staunch republican cannot justly be
assailed, his record as a legislator is a
mere blank. His public career has
been that of a trading politician who
never hesitates to sacrifice principles
or friends for personal preferment.On the most vital issues that concern
the people Mr. Dawes has no positive
convictions, and there is little hope
that he will differ in his conduct from
his immediate predecessors. Mr.
Dawes will be the next governor for
all that, and in many respects he will
make a better governor than some of
those who were competing for the position.The nominee for Lieutenant Governor, Mr. A. W. Agee is as yet un-
known to fame in this state, but he
comes recommended by the republicans of Hamilton county, where he
resides, as a promising young man.The impression he created by his
speech accepting the nomination is
very favorable.Edward P. Roggen, the republican candidate for secretary of state, is the
most competent man that could have
been chosen for the place. With an
experience of nearly twelve years as
deputy secretary of state, he has ac-
quired a thorough insight into the
duties of the office, and we have no
doubt he will fill the position faith-
fully and creditably.Loran Clark, candidate for treasurer, secured his nomination by fraud
and trickery. Mr. W. B. White, of Bart, the rightful nominee of the convention, was counted out by a racially
biased and dishonest secretary after
he had fairly been nominated.A more dangerous man could not
possibly be treated with the state
funds than Loran Clark. His record
as a legislator and public man is that
of a corrupt jobber and unprincipled
knave. He has been for years the
pliant tool of the monopolies, and
would, as a state officer, do their bid-
ding at the public expense on every
occasion. No honest republican can
give such a man his support.Mr. Wallich has been renominated for auditor. He is a weak, well-
meaning man, but he is in the hands
of the railway managers, and while
we cannot accuse him of downright
dishonesty in office, he has been
guilty of the most criminal negli-
gence of duty in assessing the property
of the railroads.Mr. Isaac Powers, Jr., was nominated for attorney general in the same
fraudulent manner as Loran Clark.
The rightful nominee of the party,
Mr. Frank Ransom, of Otoe, was
counted out by the railroad henchmen
for his benefit.This is our candid and unbiased
opinion of the respective candidates
of the republican ticket.OTHER LANDS THAN OURS.
England has up to the present time
been the chief actor in the military
settlement of the Egyptian question.Europe will from this time on take
a hand in the final adjustment of the
relations which the conquered territory
is to hold to the continental
powers. Actual warfare has closed;
diplomatic controversy seems just
about to begin. When the British
government demanded months ago the
banishment of Arabi, and sent its
troops to Alexandria to punish the
instigators of the massacre of July,
repeated promises were made by Mr.
Gladstone's government that when
the authority of the khedive had been
restored England would quietly leave
Egypt to work out her own destiny.It is a serious question now whether
those promises will be considered
binding. An overpowering public
opinion at home demands that the advantages obtained by war shall be retained in time of peace. The natural
highway to India, Egypt is also of
great importance in maintaining that
supremacy of the Mediterranean which
the possession of Gibraltar, Malta and
Cyprus have given to Great Britain.The land of the Pharaohs is now in English hands. Shall they relinquish
it? This is the question which is
puzzling Mr. Gladstone and over
whose settlement Europe is interested.Russia, Turkey, Spain, Italy and France each have interests which will
be greatly affected by English occupation, and a move in that directionThe ticket nominated by the republican state convention does not, as a
whole, commend itself to republicans
who are not owned soul and body by
corporate monopolies.The candidate for governor, James
W. Dawes, is a man of very small calibre for a position of such grave responsibility.While his record as a steadfast and
staunch republican cannot justly be
assailed, his record as a legislator is a
mere blank. His public career has
been that of a trading politician who
never hesitates to sacrifice principles
or friends for personal preferment.On the most vital issues that concern
the people Mr. Dawes has no positive
convictions, and there is little hope
that he will differ in his conduct from
his immediate predecessors. Mr.
Dawes will be the next governor for
all that, and in many respects he will
make a better governor than some of
those who were competing for the position.The nominee for Lieutenant Governor, Mr. A. W. Agee is as yet un-
known to fame in this state, but he
comes recommended by the republicans of Hamilton county, where he
resides, as a promising young man.The impression he created by his
speech accepting the nomination is
very favorable.Edward P. Roggen, the republican candidate for secretary of state, is the
most competent man that could have
been chosen for the place. With an
experience of nearly twelve years as
deputy secretary of state, he has ac-
quired a thorough insight into the
duties of the office, and we have no
doubt he will fill the position faith-
fully and creditably.Loran Clark, candidate for treasurer, secured his nomination by fraud
and trickery. Mr. W. B. White, of Bart, the rightful nominee of the convention, was counted out by a racially
biased and dishonest secretary after
he had fairly been nominated.A more dangerous man could not
possibly be treated with the state
funds than Loran Clark. His record
as a legislator and public man is that
of a corrupt jobber and unprincipled
knave. He has been for years the
pliant tool of the monopolies, and
would, as a state officer, do their bid-
ding at the public expense on every
occasion. No honest republican can
give such a man his support.Mr. Wallich has been renominated for auditor. He is a weak, well-
meaning man, but he is in the hands
of the railway managers, and while
we cannot accuse him of downright
dishonesty in office, he has been
guilty of the most criminal negli-
gence of duty in assessing the property
of the railroads.Mr. Isaac Powers, Jr., was nominated for attorney general in the same
fraudulent manner as Loran Clark.
The rightful nominee of the party,
Mr. Frank Ransom, of Otoe, was
counted out by the railroad henchmen
for his benefit.This is our candid and unbiased
opinion of the respective candidates
of the republican ticket.OTHER LANDS THAN OURS.
England has up to the present time
been the chief actor in the military
settlement of the Egyptian question.Europe will from this time on take
a hand in the final adjustment of the
relations which the conquered territory
is to hold to the continental
powers. Actual warfare has closed;
diplomatic controversy seems just
about to begin. When the British
government demanded months ago the
banishment of Arabi, and sent its
troops to Alexandria to punish the
instigators of the massacre of July,
repeated promises were made by Mr.
Gladstone's government that when
the authority of the khedive had been
restored England would quietly leave
Egypt to work out her own destiny.It is a serious question now whether
those promises will be considered
binding. An overpowering public
opinion at home demands that the advantages obtained by war shall be retained in time of peace. The natural
highway to India, Egypt is also of
great importance in maintaining that
supremacy of the Mediterranean which
the possession of Gibraltar, Malta and
Cyprus have given to Great Britain.The land of the Pharaohs is now in English hands. Shall they relinquish
it? This is the question which is
puzzling Mr. Gladstone and over
whose settlement Europe is interested.Russia, Turkey, Spain, Italy and France each have interests which will
be greatly affected by English occupation, and a move in that direction

REPUBLICANISM AND RAILROAD BOSS-ISM.

The ticket nominated by the republican state convention does not, as a
whole, commend itself to republicans
who are not owned soul and body by
corporate monopolies.The candidate for governor, James
W. Dawes, is a man of very small calibre for a position of such grave responsibility.While his record as a steadfast and
staunch republican cannot justly be
assailed, his record as a legislator is a
mere blank. His public career has
been that of a trading politician who
never hesitates to sacrifice principles
or friends for personal preferment.On the most vital issues that concern
the people Mr. Dawes has no positive
convictions, and there is little hope
that he will differ in his conduct from
his immediate predecessors. Mr.
Dawes will be the next governor for
all that, and in many respects he will
make a better governor than some of
those who were competing for the position.The nominee for Lieutenant Governor, Mr. A. W. Agee is as yet un-
known to fame in this state, but he
comes recommended by the republicans of Hamilton county, where he
resides, as a promising young man.The impression he created by his
speech accepting the nomination is
very favorable.Edward P. Roggen, the republican candidate for secretary of state, is the
most competent man that could have
been chosen for the place. With an
experience of nearly twelve years as
deputy secretary of state, he has ac-
quired a thorough insight into the
duties of the office, and we have no
doubt he will fill the position faith-
fully and creditably.Loran Clark, candidate for treasurer, secured his nomination by fraud
and trickery. Mr. W. B. White, of Bart, the rightful nominee of the convention, was counted out by a racially
biased and dishonest secretary after
he had fairly been nominated.A more dangerous man could not
possibly be treated with the state
funds than Loran Clark. His record
as a legislator and public man is that
of a corrupt jobber and unprincipled
knave. He has been for years the
pliant tool of the monopolies, and
would, as a state officer, do their bid-
ding at the public expense on every
occasion. No honest republican can
give such a man his support.Mr. Wallich has been renominated for auditor. He is a weak, well-
meaning man, but he is in the hands
of the railway managers, and while
we cannot accuse him of downright
dishonesty in office, he has been
guilty of the most criminal negli-
gence of duty in assessing the property
of the railroads.Mr. Isaac Powers, Jr., was nominated for attorney general in the same
fraudulent manner as Loran Clark.
The rightful nominee of the party,
Mr. Frank Ransom, of Otoe, was
counted out by the railroad henchmen
for his benefit.This is our candid and unbiased
opinion of the respective candidates
of the republican ticket.OTHER LANDS THAN OURS.
England has up to the present time
been the chief actor in the military
settlement of the Egyptian question.Europe will from this time on take
a hand in the final adjustment of the
relations which the conquered territory
is to hold to the continental
powers. Actual warfare has closed;
diplomatic controversy seems just
about to begin. When the British
government demanded months ago the
banishment of Arabi, and sent its
troops to Alexandria to punish the
instigators of the massacre of July,
repeated promises were made by Mr.
Gladstone's government that when
the authority of the khedive had been
restored England would quietly leave
Egypt to work out her own destiny.It is a serious question now whether
those promises will be considered
binding. An overpowering public
opinion at home demands that the advantages obtained by war shall be retained in time of peace. The natural
highway to India, Egypt is also of
great importance in maintaining that
supremacy of the Mediterranean which
the possession of Gibraltar, Malta and
Cyprus have given to Great Britain.The land of the Pharaohs is now in English hands. Shall they relinquish
it? This is the question which is
puzzling Mr. Gladstone and over
whose settlement Europe is interested.Russia, Turkey, Spain, Italy and France each have interests which will
be greatly affected by English occupation, and a move in that directionThe ticket nominated by the republican state convention does not, as a
whole, commend itself to republicans
who are not owned soul and body by
corporate monopolies.The candidate for governor, James
W. Dawes, is a man of very small calibre for a position of such grave responsibility.While his record as a steadfast and
staunch republican cannot justly be
assailed, his record as a legislator is a
mere blank. His public career has
been that of a trading politician who
never hesitates to sacrifice principles
or friends for personal preferment.On the most vital issues that concern
the people Mr. Dawes has no positive
convictions, and there is little hope
that he will differ in his conduct from
his immediate predecessors. Mr.
Dawes will be the next governor for
all that, and in many respects he will
make a better governor than some of
those who were competing for the position.The nominee for Lieutenant Governor, Mr. A. W. Agee is as yet un-
known to fame in this state, but he
comes recommended by the republicans of Hamilton county, where he
resides, as a promising young man.The impression he created by his
speech accepting the nomination is
very favorable.Edward P. Roggen, the republican candidate for secretary of state, is the
most competent man that could have
been chosen for the place. With an
experience of nearly twelve years as
deputy secretary of state, he has ac-
quired a thorough insight into the
duties of the office, and we have no
doubt he will fill the position faith-
fully and creditably.Loran Clark, candidate for treasurer, secured his nomination by fraud
and trickery. Mr. W. B. White, of Bart, the rightful nominee of the convention, was counted out by a racially
biased and dishonest secretary after
he had fairly been nominated.A more dangerous man could not
possibly be treated with the state
funds than Loran Clark. His record
as a legislator and public man is that
of a corrupt jobber and unprincipled
knave. He has been for years the
pliant tool of the monopolies, and
would, as a state officer, do their bid-
ding at the public expense on every occasion. No honest